Dear Dr. Lanza,

Twenty years have passed since President Truman made his now-famous Point Four proclamation that promised aid and assistance to developing nations. Since that time technical assistance and development aid have burgeoned and grown to one of the great international efforts of our century.

The Harry S Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace will dedicate its building on Mount Scopus in Jerusalem during the week of May 24th - 30th 1970. On this occasion we are planning an international conference to pay tribute to President Truman's vision and foresight. This conference will be devoted to an assessment of what has been accomplished in the field of technical assistance and what we can learn from these accomplishments for the future.

This conference will not only be a tribute to President Truman; it also reflects the desire of the Center to plan and carry out research projects of importance to the developing nations as one of its contributions to furthering the peace of the world.

We take pleasure in inviting you to participate in the morning session of the third day devoted to a case study of Technical Assistance and Development in the field of Health and Nutrition.

From the enclosed program you will see that we have divided the four-day conference into three sections, the first a review of the problems of development and technical assistance; the second, case studies in agriculture, health and nutrition, and education; and the third a critique of implications of the program. Two days following the end of the sessions will be devoted to tours of the country, emphasizing work germane to the subject of the conference.

We hope you will find it possible to participate with us in this conference and the accompanying events marking the dedication of the Truman Center building.

I look forward to hearing from you as early as possible.

Yours sincerely,

E. D. Bergmann

Dear Dr. Lanza,

Thank you very much for your letter of February 2nd.

Within a very short time you will be receiving from us a comprehensive background paper on the conference prepared by Dr. Jacob Kaplan and Mr. Seymour Rubin. With this we shall send you the final program of the conference.

Speakers at all sessions will have approximately thirty minutes at their disposal. They can of course contribute further during the discussion period after the addresses.

You are invited to take part as a discussant in all sessions following the presentations by the speakers and your remarks pertaining to "Criteria of Assistance Effectiveness" will be most welcome.

We too look forward with pleasure to your participation.

Yours sincerely,

E. D. Bergmann

THE TRUMAN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

May 23 - 31, 1970

Jerusalem, Israel

As your hosts to the first major international conference organized by the Harry S Truman Research Institute of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem we welcome you to our new building, to Mount Scopus and to Jerusalem.

This conference is suitably and rightly linked to the name of the former President of the United States, Mr. Harry S Truman, who on January 21, 1949, proclaimed his now famous Point Four Declaration. This was in fact the true beginning of a great manifestation of international cooperation in this century.

The program of the Conference is divided into three sections - first, a look at what has been accomplished in the past two decades; secondly, a survey in depth of three major areas of assistance; and finally, an attempt to look into the third decade of assistance and development and to make suggestions for future action. To these objectives will be directed the thought and concern of all participants for whom assistance and development are important and urgent tasks.

We are confident that there will emerge from our delegation a strong and hopeful statement for the future.

All our efforts have been directed towards making your stay in Israel pleasant and rewarding.
